The Bert Saperstein Communication Scholarship Fund

Bert Saperstein was a pioneer videotape producer and a man who always found time in his busy schedule to advise, encourage, and help young people starting out in the business. Family, friends, and business associates unanimously agreed that a scholarship trust, helping young, deserving people with their education, would be an appropriate memorial to Bert's memory and deeds. Since 1983, The Bert Saperstein Communication Scholarship Fund has awarded more than 110 scholarships to college bound students. The Fund is a non-profit, IRS and New York State approved charity, chartered to continue awarding Bert Saperstein scholarships in perpetuity - a fitting memorial to an industry leader who always found time to help young people.
